

Rohingya
UNHCR Area of Focus:	Protection Capacity, Resilience, Self-reliance, and Solutions
JRS Approach:	Protection advocacy, education, livelihoods and MHPSS
Geographical Scope:	Regional Southeast Asia and Asia Pacific regions
Type of Contribution:	Advocacy, technical and material support
Partners/Stakeholders:	Academic institutions, partners, refugees, and host communities
Receiving Entities:	Forcibly displaced populations, host communities; International organizations; State(s)
Timeframe:	4 years
Key Outcome:	The Rohingya refugees multi-stakeholder pledge aims to ease the pressure on host countries through enhancing resilience and expanding solutions for Rohingya refugees. The pledge creates opportunities for stakeholders to leverage their collective strengths to advance resilience through supporting self-reliance initiatives, access to education and climate action, and to expand solutions by supporting the creation of conditions for sustainable return and third country solutions, such as resettlement or complementary pathways.
JRS Commitment:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• JRS pledges to advocate with the international community to ensure protection of all civilians and humanitarian access to people in need during the current fighting in Myanmar.</li> <li>• JRS pledge to advocate with the international community for justice and accountability for gross human rights violation and crimes against humanity carried out in Myanmar and for enhanced peace and reconciliation efforts.</li> <li>• JRS pledges to enhance the protection and resilience of Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh and expanding solutions beyond providing Mental Health and Psychosocial Support (MHPSS) that will enable Rohingya children, youth, and the adults to live a dignified life.</li> <li>• JRS pledges to start up protection and educational activities for Rohingya refugees in Malaysia.</li> <li>• JRS pledges provide emergency response to the Rohingya boat arrivals in Indonesia.</li> </ul>
JRS Contact Person:	Kunanyaporn Jirasamatakij and Antony Arulraj kunanyaporn.jirasamatakij@jrs.net ( antony.arulraj@jrs.net )